How Does Your Garden Grow?

Every garden is different and special. Here are some tips to help you make yours beautiful. Tear off this Garden Guide and put it someplace handy.

Pick a sunny spot that you see or walk by often.

Plant your seeds when the ground softens and the days start to warm up. Mark the spot (use your Thumbelina seed marker), so you can identify your plants.

Save water! Use old buckets or cut-off milk jugs to catch rain for watering. Water flowers just enough, but not too much!

Recycle grass clippings and dead leaves as mulch around your plants to help them stay moist and get nutrients.
